Welcome to the 2014 edition of the Tour de France for Le Grand Boucle Version 5. Attached are all the ratings calculated to allow you to complete a replay of Le Tour. As has been noted in the rules, this is not a direct replay of the race. If you want that, watch the DVD highlights, but this will allow you to replay the event between the key protagonists in the race. Will Vincenzo Nibali be quite so dominant? Only you can say...

Below are several notes regarding the sections and the race which you will need to consider before starting;

1. You will need the Version 5 rules
2. Category 3 and 4 climbs are not included in the Stage data unless mentioned specifically. They have little bearing on each stage, nor on the ultimate King of the Mountain category result.
3. Mid stage sprints are included for completeness as these results can impact the result of the Green Jersey category. However, it is your choice whether you wish to collect results of these sprints.
4. The Category 2 climb at Holme Moss in Stage 2 is included for the purpose of the King of the Mountain category. The climb itself had a minimal impact on the outcome of the stage.
5. Stage 5 includes a cobbled section from the 87km mark to the end of the stage. There were 9 different cobbled sections. Please refer to Version 5 of Le Grande Boucle rules and "The Cobbles" section of these ratings. Riders have been rated to include riders that excelled on the day and the majority of key riders. Those key riders not listed automatically finish with the peloton.
6. Stage 8 is a mountain top finish on a Category 3 mountain. Ordinarily, Category 3 climbs are not rated but as this is a mountain finish, this climb is rated.
7. Where teams have more than one Breakaway specialist, it is indicative of those riders being involved in multiple breakaways across the Tour. How you select them is up to you, but I tend to make a note and rotate through them.
8. The "Other Climbers" are listed for completeness to allow you to hold a King of the Mountains event. I assume that these riders disappear off at the beginning of the day accumulating KOM points and then get caught on the last climb of the day and have no bearing on the overall stage result. Therefore I run the category climbs as per the sprints.

Le Tour 2014 for Le Grande Boucle

9. As per V5 rules, the battles between the key riders take place across all major climbs. While this is not necessarily reflective of how stages pan out where all the key contributors stick together until the last climb of the day when all hell breaks loose, I have found in my replays that this does provide indicative time deficits.
10. There was only one Individual Time Trial in the 2014 Tour, so any rider who failed to progress to Stage 20 has been given a rating of “0” (Note though that under the rules they are unlikely to make it that far anyway but you never know). They have also been assigned a generic Breakaway and Descent rating.
11. You’ll note that unlike Phillippe’s excellent sprinters sheets, time trial sheets etc, I have only provided basic ratings for you to complete the stages of the Tour. I don’t have the technical expertise to do the graphics. I apologise for that but understand that everyone will play the game slightly differently and that the crucial components are the ratings themselves. If someone wants to produce those sheets then please feel free to and add as a supplement.
12. Hopefully you find everything you need to replay the race, If not, or if you have other feedback please send me an e-mail at frosty67@gmail.com
